ACP PRESIDENT'S REPORT

As I reflect on my year as the President of the American College of Prosthodontists, it is filled with peace and excitement.

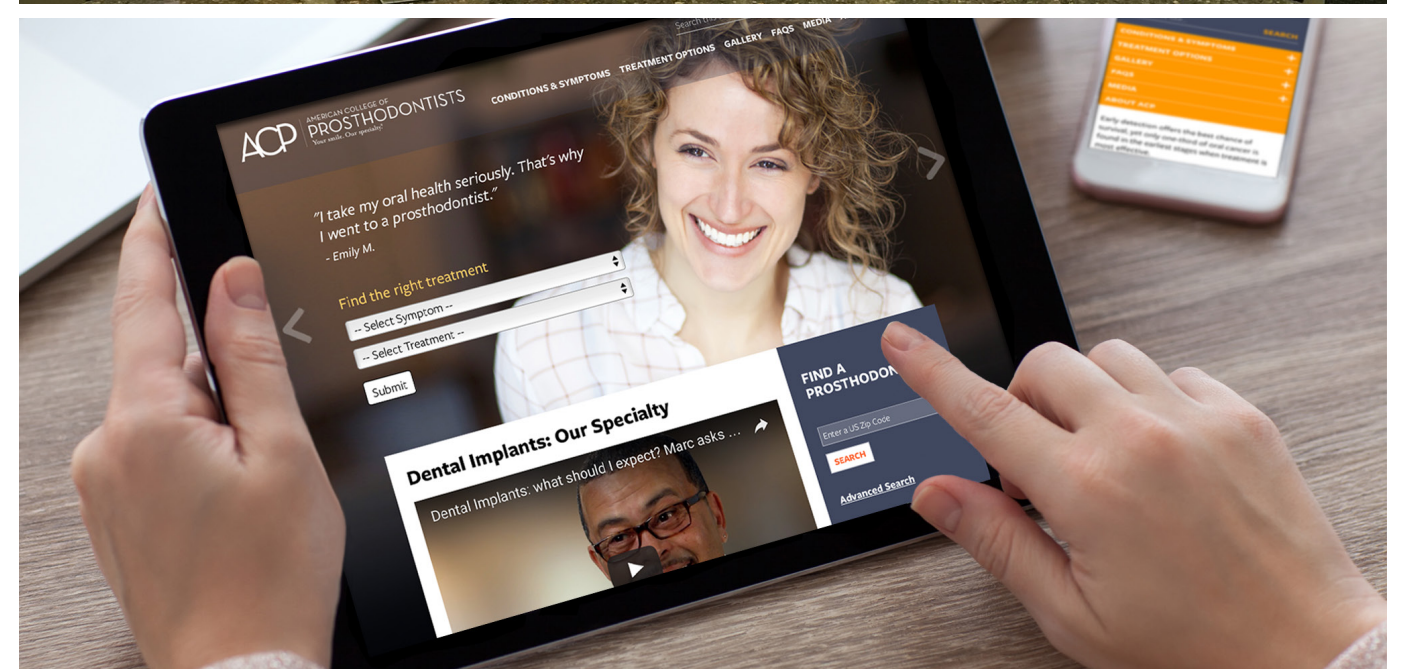

The peace begins with not having to worry about the multitude of decisions that the President of the College presides over on a daily basis. Each President anguishes with each and every facet of the College knowing that each issue greatly affects the members and the specialty. The weight of these decisions is immense. The excitement arrives when you reflect back over the year and realize the incredible results that were accomplished by our team working together for the betterment of the College.

Certainly, the most difficult task I faced as President was the unexpected stepping down of Deal Chandler as the Executive Director. This occurred a few months before the Annual Session but fortunately, the College had a succession plan in place, and we immediately activated it and worked the process.

Dr. Linda Caradine-Poinsett was hired as Deal's replacement and has been a superb addition to our family. The Central Office staff was phenomenal during this time, and the office functioned without missing a beat, only because the great efforts of our staff and the advanced planning that Deal directed prior to her departure. In addition to Deal's departure, I had to find a new Treasurer and a new Annual Session Chair as personal issues arose that required key individuals to resign from these vital positions. I wish these events on no President!

Key achievements include but are not limited to:

- Increased awareness of what a prosthodontist does
- A redesigned consumer website
- Further development of digital dentistry education to include the symposium and publication of the Glossary of Digital Dental Terms
- The release of the Clinical Practice Guidelines of Tooth-Borne and Implant-Borne Restorations
- Webinars and journal collaboration with the Academy of General Dentistry
- A strong financial position of the College
- Continuation of partnering with the leaders in industry
- A robust Spokespersons Network
- Reinstatement of the 'Match'
- Release of multiple prosthodontic-related apps

ACP PRESIDENT'S REPORT

- Extending the discounted dues period for newly graduated residents
- Development of succession plans
- Dynamic position statements
- A highly successful Annual Session at a magnificent venue

It is impossible to name all those involved in all these endeavors but let me assure you that it was certainly a team effort.

I am so proud to have served with our great team and I was humbled by my selection. I return to the notion of peace that one finds in their year as Immediate Past President and I find so much peace knowing that the College is in such good hands with our Board of Directors, staff, and members of the College. I will be a fan for life, and I am eternally grateful that I became a prosthodontist and a member of the College.

Thank you so much for all your support, and see you in San Francisco.

ANNUAL SESSION: THE INTERSECTION OF ART & TECHNOLOGY

There's no doubt that prosthodontists are leaders in the use of advanced technology in dentistry. And there's also no doubt that art is an essential part of our esthetic identity during diagnosis, planning, and treatment. The 46th Annual Session of the American College of Prosthodontists was designed to explore these pillars of our identity as specialists.

ACP President Dr. Carl F. Driscoll and Program Chair Dr. John Agar assembled a group of speakers who brought the very latest updates from the vanguard of clinical practice and research.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

DIGITAL DENTISTRY SYMPOSIUM

Held in Chicago on Feb. 22-23, the ACP's second digital dentistry symposium hosted a sold-out crowd! The symposium showcased state-of-the-art digital solutions for the treatment of restorative patients, including best practices and actual clinical workflows. Attendees included prosthodontists, dental technicians, and general dentists from all over the world.

"The novice and experienced attendees learned from each other and broadened their horizons. The camaraderie was palpable, and the transfer of knowledge was inspiring," said Dr. Carl F. Driscoll, ACP President.

Thanks to Biodenta, Dentsply Sirona, Henry Schein, Ivoclar Vivadent, Nobel Biocare, and Straumann for their sponsorship of the symposium.

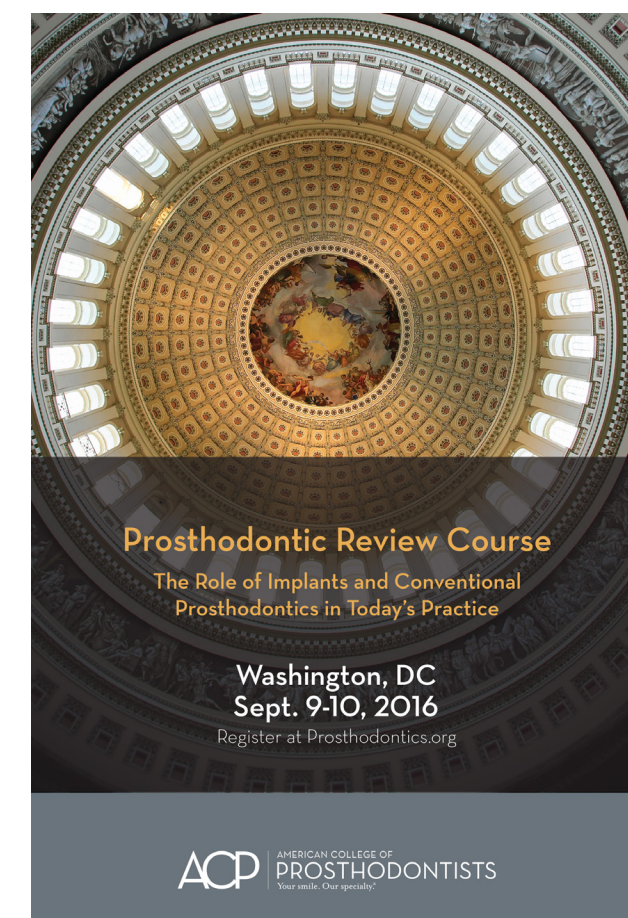

PROSTHODONTIC REVIEW COURSE

The 2016 Prosthodontic Review Course was held on Sept. 9-10 in Washington, DC with 105 attendees. Led by Dr. Steven Sadowsky, speakers demonstrated the integration of prosthodontic principles in successful clinical dentistry and reinforced the key prosthodontic treatment approaches that meet esthetic and functional goals expected by patients and clinicians.

"This was an overall great review of current philosophies in prosthodontics," said Dr. Naif Sinada, an attendee. "The topics incited good discussion among my fellow residents, giving us a perspective of how things are being done in the hands of different clinicians around the country."

Thanks to Preat for their sponsorship of the course.

JOURNAL OF PROSTHODONTICS

The Journal of Prosthodontics published eight issues and two special supplements in 2016. The editorial board reviewed a total of 603 new submissions and accepted 123 (20% acceptance rate). Review times in the Journal average just under one month from submission to receipt of first decision.

The Journal of Prosthodontics' impact factor (a measure of a journal's influence on the scientific literature) rose from 1.071 in 2012 to 1.133 in 2015 (the most recent listings released). The JOP rose one place, to become the 55th ranked dentistry journal, as indexed by Thomson Scientific.

In 2016, the Journal of Prosthodontics released two special supplements: 'Clinical Practice Guidelines for Recall and Maintenance of Patients with Tooth-Borne and Implant-Borne Dental Restorations' and the 'Glossary of Digital Dental Terms.' All articles in these collections have been downloaded more than 1500 times.

The Journal of Prosthodontics is now available as an app through the Apple Store. App functionality includes access to articles anytime, anywhere; immediate access to new content; ability to select keywords for tailored content alerts; ability to download issues to read offline, or share important articles; and enhanced search across all downloaded content. Wiley Publishing continues to develop an Android app, but security issues in rollouts to other journals have delayed its implementation.

Full-text downloads for the JOP increased from 136,518 to 145,259, a rise of 6%. The most accessed article, with over 2100 downloads, was "Clinical Practice Guidelines for Recall and Maintenance of Patients with Tooth-Borne and Implant-Borne Dental Restorations." The most-cited article (with 9 citations) was "A Retrospective Analysis of 800 Brånemark System Implants Following the All-on-Four™ Protocol."

The Journal's third annual virtual issue, "Ceramics in Prosthodontics" was released in the summer of 2016. Articles in the virtual collection have been downloaded more than 4000 times since August 2016.

For 2016, total income, net income, and the royalty due to the ACP from John Wiley Publishing all increased vs. 2015.

The JOP offered 24 new online CE courses (1 credit hour each) based on published articles.

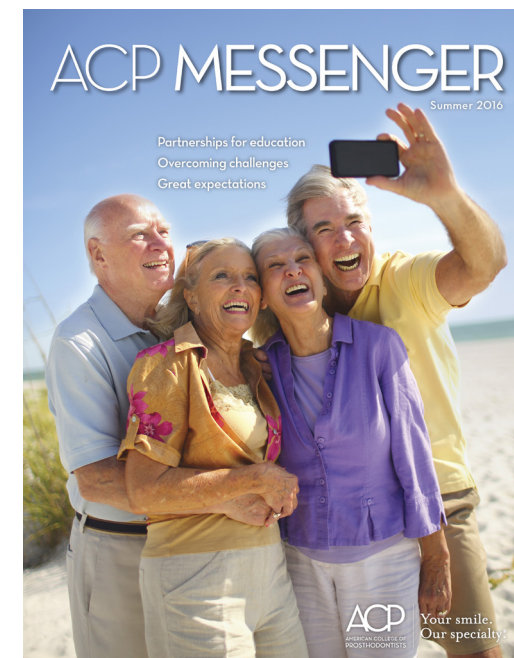

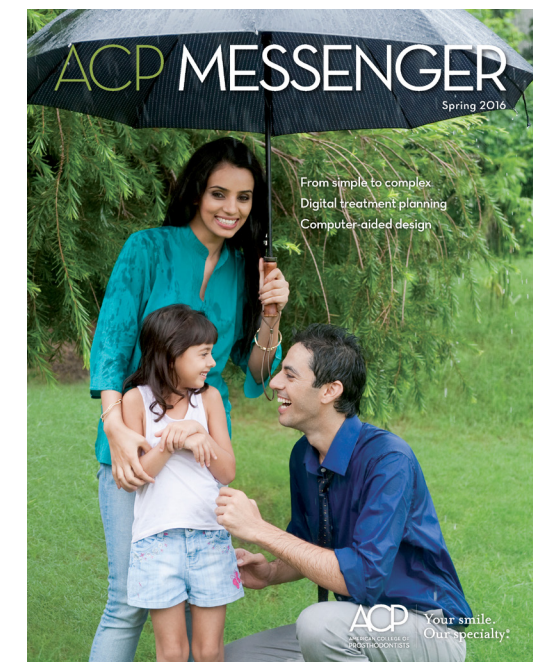

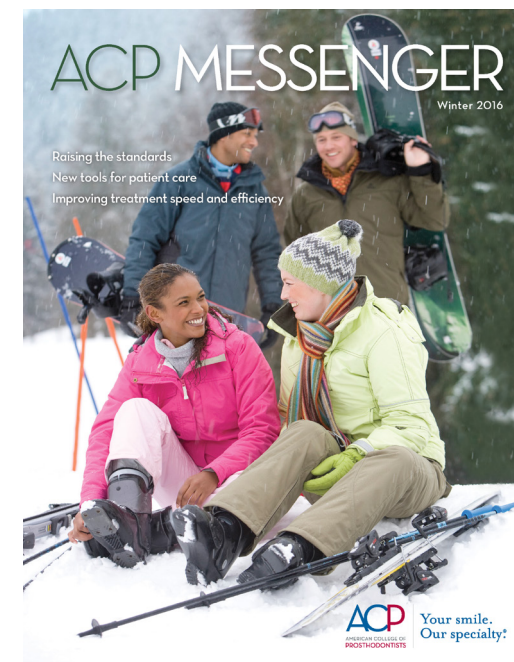

ACP MESSENGER

Led by Dr. Mathew T. Kattadiyil, Editor-in-Chief, along with Drs. Susan E. Brackett and Robert M. Taft as Associate Editors, the ACP Messenger published four issues in 2016.

Available in both print and tablet-optimized digital editions, the ACP Messenger seeks to inform the world of current prosthodontic trends, challenges, and successes.

Issues focused on subjects of interest to patients and prosthodontists alike, including showcasing how digital design and technology revolutionize patient care (Winter); the simple to the complex in patient treatments and the steps that prosthodontists take to transform patients' lives (Spring); the unique interests that drive the members of our specialty (Summer); and evolving technology in dentistry, the generational influence on innovation, and collaborating with dental technicians (Fall).

MEDIA & PUBLIC RELATIONS

METRICS UPDATE

- From Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 2016, there were more than 22,000 social media mentions for prosthodontic(s) or prosthodontist(s) in 49 states per Cision. This compares to 17,000 media mentions in 2015, a 29% increase.
- The “Prosthodontists’ Infographic Offers 6 Pearls of Wisdom to Care for Restored Pearly Whites” press release in March as well as ACP press releases about avoiding “do-it-again dentistry” contributed to a steady increase in traditional media mentions and exposure.
- Key traditional placements included: The Today Show, Inside Dentistry, WTIC 1080 News Talk radio, USA Today, First Coast Living
- Five online stories appeared on websites with a reach of 24 million people, including “25 Hot Jobs That Pay More Than $100K”, “Where to Go When You Chip a Tooth? A Prosthodontist”, and “Prosthodontists to Patients: Beat the Odds of Do-It-Again Dentistry for World Oral Health Day.”

KEY PLACEMENTS

- More than 900 Clear Choice TV segments featured ACP prosthodontists.
- “Cash Cab” featured a question about dentures and prosthodontists.
- ACP Spokespersons Network member Dr. Keith Clear was featured in a segment on teeth whitening.
- ACP President Dr. Carl Driscoll appeared on NBC5 Chicago about digital dentistry.
- The ADA News and other trade publications covered the hiring of Dr. Linda Caradine-Poinsett as executive director.

New ACP Clinical Practice Guidelines: a multi-channel strategy

The Science

The new clinical practice guidelines will help dentists and hygienists to standardize effective oral health maintenance and improve patient care.

The Clinicians

The ACP led a scientific panel of experts appointed by the ADA, AGD, ADHA, and the ACP who critically evaluated and debated findings from two systematic reviews covering ten years of research literature.

The Public/Media

The ACP's Clinical Practice Guidelines (CPGs) continue to get pick up and mentions by media outlets, industry and university press, and on social media.

The Members

Your posting, liking, sharing, and retweeting the CPGs news is working! Thank you Prosthodontists, Peers, and the Press for helping raise public awareness on tips to avoid “do-it-again dentistry.”

MEDIA & PUBLIC RELATIONS

ACP SPOKESPERSONS NETWORK

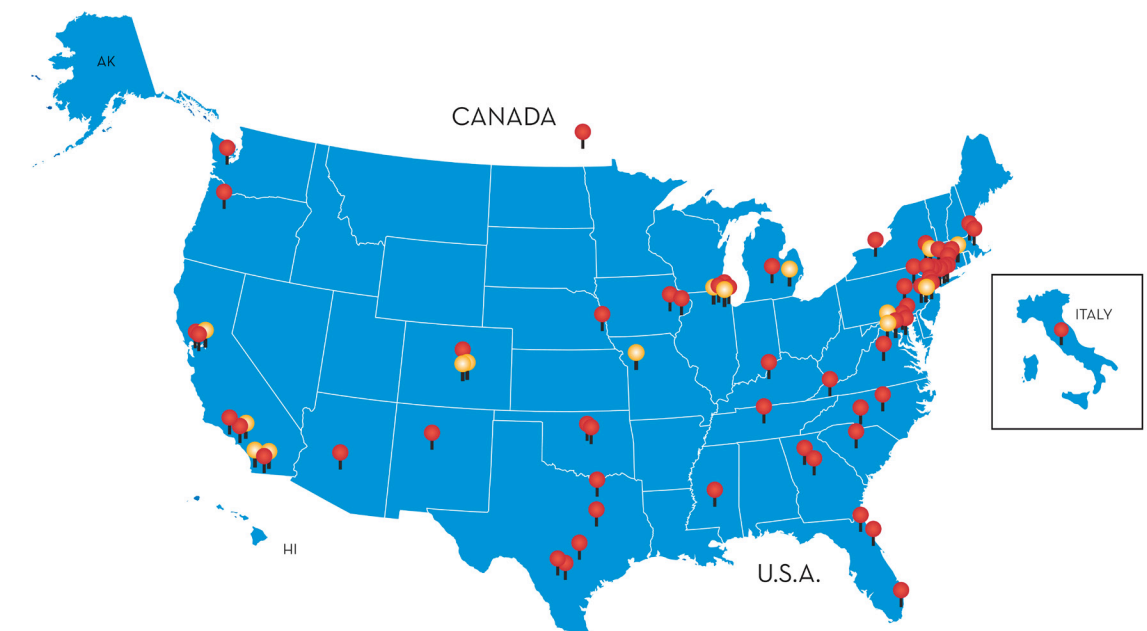

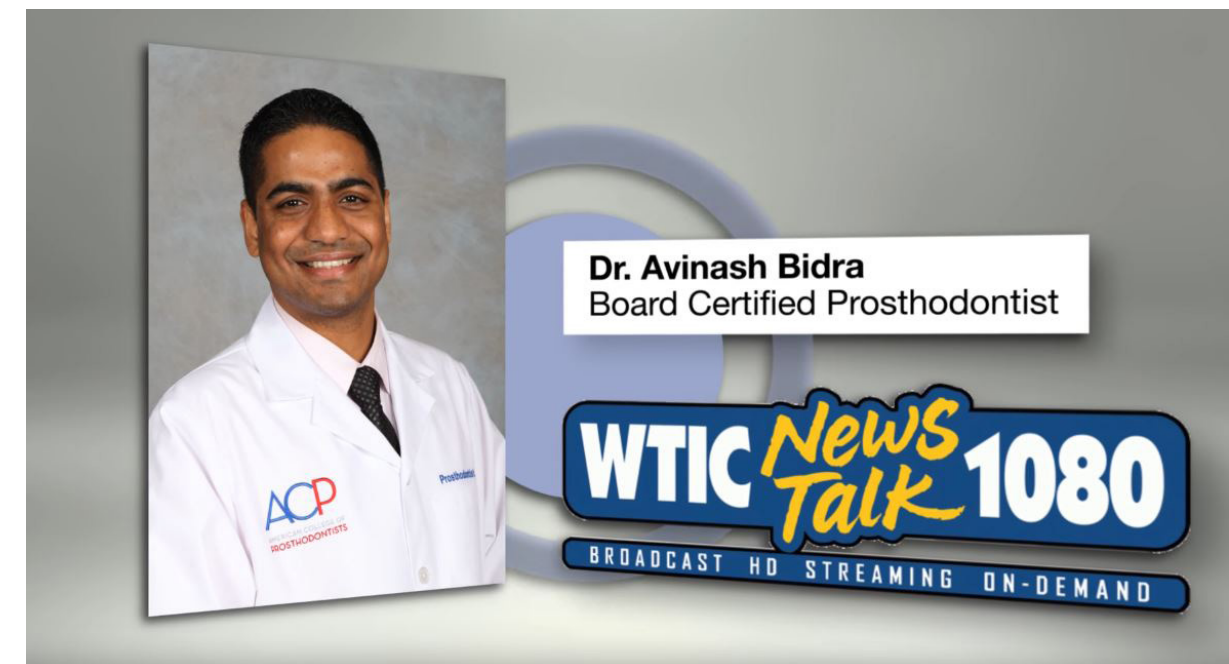

- The ACP Spokespersons Network rose to 75 prosthodontists across America, Canada, and Italy. The 2016 class was another sold-out class, with demand exceeding capacity (31 applicants for 15 slots).
- The class filmed 15 individual TV interviews on the topic of ACP's Clinical Practice Guidelines for restored teeth care to educate consumers.

NEW VIDEOS PRODUCED

- Sixteen videos were featured on GoToAPro.org/videos in a new layout.
- Three real patients provided testimonials about their care with a prosthodontist.
- The Media Highlights video showcased the achievements of the ACP public relations program in the last 5 years.
- A quick video on the recently released Clinical Practice Guidelines offered patients powerful tips for lifelong care of restored teeth.

2016 PR SURVEY FINDINGS

- Given three choices, 71% of respondents selected 'increasing the visibility and public awareness of prosthodontists' as the most important function of the ACP.
- 28.5% of respondents have practice websites with a link to GoToAPro.org.
- 56.1% were aware that using the hashtags #prosthodontist or #prosthodontics on social media, or weaving in "As a prosthodontist..." in presentations, lectures, and daily life can help raise consumer awareness.
- When asked if they believe the ACP's PR efforts have been successful, 26% said 'Yes' and 56% said 'Somewhat'. This can be seen as a potential opportunity to further gain an understanding of what "success" looks like to these members.

NATIONAL PROSTHODONTICS AWARENESS WEEK

The 7th year of NPAW marked another great celebration with 157 activities in 30 states and 11 countries, marking a new high for activities!

PRO BONO CARE / ORAL HEALTH

- North Carolina: UNC Graduate Prosthodontics residents celebrated NPAW by rallying together to fabricate new denture prostheses for 7 patients from the local community. The UNC Grad Pros team extends a special dedication to prosthodontics department chair, Dr. Robert Wright, who passed away unexpectedly in April 2016: “We all would like to dedicate our NPAW in his memory and express our gratitude to him for the support he provided us as chair of our department.”

OPEN HOUSES

- Michigan: Drs. Jennifer Priebe and Jonathan Wiens hosted an open house and invited referring doctors and their staff to celebrate NPAW on the opening day of the Detroit Tigers baseball season.

PROFESSIONAL PRESENTATIONS

- Texas: Dr. Ben Ross gave a presentation entitled “Prosthodontics Potpourri” to the Fort Hood, TX, Army Dental Activity.

LUNCH AND LEARNS

- Nebraska: Drs. Alvin Wee, Andrea Hall, and Kirstin McCarville hosted a lunch and learn at Creighton University School of Dentistry. They included a presentation that highlighted their dental students and patients, and then the event ended with Prosthodontic Jeopardy.

COMMUNITY / PUBLIC OUTREACH

- Connecticut: Drs. Avinash Bidra, Thomas Taylor, and John Agar celebrated NPAW at the University of Connecticut (UConn) with their 8 prosthodontic residents by organizing events at the Health Center throughout the week. The residents also hosted a prosthodontics booth at the Annual Health Fair at UConn. They issued a newsletter, and Dr. Bidra was featured on UConn Today, which reaches over 20,000 people in the community.

NATIONAL PROSTHODONTICS AWARENESS WEEK

- Kentucky: Dr. Brandon Stapleton had Lexington, KY, Mayor Jim Gray officially declared April 3-9, 2016 as National Prosthodontics Awareness Week in their city. Dr. Stapleton received a plaque commemorating this honor.
- Texas: Dr. Johanna Yepez celebrated NPAW by visiting senior centers to inform senior citizens of the benefits of visiting a prosthodontist. She also celebrated with referral doctors from around the area. Dr. Yepez created a video to announce the activities she had planned for NPAW.

PRESS COVERAGE

- Florida: Dr. Matthew Nawrocki was featured on a segment called Dental Health Watch on First Coast Living to talk about NPAW and what a prosthodontist does.
- Illinois: ACP President Dr. Carl Driscoll spoke on Digital Dentistry for NBC Chicago's "Weekend Web" segment.
- New York: Dr. Frank LaMar had an article published in the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle to promote NPAW.
- Pennsylvania: Drs. Thomas Balshi and Glenn Wolfinger celebrated NPAW by making arrangements with one of their "Teeth in a Day" patients who is also a celebrity radio talk show host. Pi Dental Center was featured on WDAS-FM Radio.
- National: Clear Choice Dental did a PR Push and secured 300+ TV segments featuring ACP members from March 15- April 30, which coincided with NPAW.

JOURNAL OF PROSTHODONTICS

- For NPAW, two articles were free in the Journal of Prosthodontics for the month of April. The Clinical Practice Guidelines were downloaded 315 times. The Co-Morbidities article was downloaded 304 times.

SOCIAL MEDIA

- Instagram: ACP members Drs. Alec Zurek, Craig Sikora, Anthony Pallotto, Goth Siu, and Michael Christian started an Instagram hashtag, #PROSTH5TEAM, to showcase the types of difficult cases a prosthodontist might encounter, and how they might solve those issues. Collectively, they have over 15,000 followers! See the posts at: instagram.com/explore/tags/prosth5team/

ACPEF CHAIR'S REPORT

As you flip through the next pages of the ACPEF Annual Report, the many photographs of friends and colleagues remind us that our business is one of people. We, the American College of Prosthodontists Education Foundation, exist for and because of people.

The ACPEF appears when there are things to be done, money to be raised, and awards to be bestowed. But behind the things, funds, and awards are people. We probably ought to be known as the ACP “Everybody Foundation” because our aspirations and actions are meant to influence everyone and everything that is a ‘prosthodontist’.

This year, the ACPEF continued its support of expanding the College through organic growth of the specialty using continuous resident engagement as one strategy. Our targeted efforts in digital technology address what our members told us was a primary concern and interest.

The steady growth and consistent engagement of the College is comforting. The ACPEF has grown from its 2008 valuation of about $800,000 to nearly $5,000,000. But these tallies account for things; tallies may not represent what is in the hearts and minds of our members, and they may not represent our future actions. Our future depends on people.

Stanford psychologist Carol Dweck (2007) distinguishes between two types of beliefs about human capabilities and traits. Among people, there are those with fixed mindsets (assumes your capability cannot be developed) and those with growth mindsets (assumes your capabilities will be developed). The ACP’s future depends on developing the capabilities of our members, and it requires that a growth mindset is dominant among the College membership.

The ACP and the ACPEF are in the midst of a careful inward look at who are its members, how are they represented and, importantly, who are our future leaders. Members will drive the growth of our specialty. Individuals’ actions will direct this growth. Leadership will assure our path toward ideal prosthodontic therapy and oral health care.

Whether you contribute your time, your ideas, your money, or your good will to the specialty, please continue to give generously of yourselves to the ACP and the ACPEF. Together, we will develop the capabilities of our specialty.

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR EDUCATION

DIGITAL DENTISTRY CURRICULUM

Enabled by a major commitment from Henry Schein to the ACP Education Foundation, the ACP Digital Dentistry Curriculum Team worked on a groundbreaking new curriculum that will incorporate CAD/CAM technology into dental schools. The first version of the curriculum will be piloted in five institutions in the fall of 2017 and then made available to all schools in 2018.

In 2016, a variety of digital dentistry resources were created and published as part of this initiative, including a compilation of abstracts from five journals; and a white paper on digital dentistry.

POSTDOCTORAL RESIDENT SUPPORT

The Foundation sponsored the 2016 Postdoctoral Resident Support Program, a package of ACP educational resources for more than 620 residents. This program introduces residents to the community of prosthodontics and provides information to maximize their training and education. It also includes administration of a National Prosthodontic Resident Exam through the Advanced Prosthodontic Program Directors to help residents assess their knowledge; 414 residents took the exam in 2016.

262 residents received support to attend the 2016 ACP Annual Session through the Foundation, which also provided support for new graduate prosthodontic program development in schools of dentistry which currently have no program.

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR EDUCATION

JOINT EDUCATORS CONFERENCES

For predoctoral and postdoctoral prosthodontic educators, the Foundation hosted meetings on April 15-16, 2016 in Chicago, with 122 attendees representing 57 institutions, and on Oct. 5, 2016 in San Diego, with 173 attendees representing 71 institutions.

At the spring meeting, the two groups of educators joined together for presentations and open discussions through the Digital Dentistry Curriculum Workshop. Then, on Saturday, the predoctoral session covered topics such as educational learning management systems. The postdoctoral session included an update from the American Board of Prosthodontics and a presentation on the ADA's Advanced Dental Admission Test. Additionally, program directors discussed the Postdoctoral Dental Matching Program. The discussion and vote confirmed the specialty's participation in "the Match" beginning with the 2018 application cycle.

In the fall, the predoctoral session included presentations on cost savings and program enhancement through digital curriculum implementation and culminated with a digital dentistry challenge workshop. The postdoctoral session included presentations by the ABP, ACP National Resident Exam Subcommittee, and a review and discussion regarding CODA standard revisions currently out for comment. In the joint afternoon session, updates on the Digital Dentistry Curriculum Project, supported by Henry Schein, and Clinical Practice Guidelines, supported by Colgate, were presented.

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR ADVANCEMENT OF THE SPECIALTY

WOMEN IN PROSTHODONTICS

At the end of 2015, the ACPEF took on a special project to celebrate the growth of women in the specialty over the years. Several volunteers were involved in this tremendous initiative that led to the 2016 publication of Women in Prosthodontics, an inspiring and insightful e-book. The e-book, which is available to download on Apple iBooks, Nook, Kindle, and Prosthodontics.org, is full of essays from some of the incredible women pioneers and leaders of the specialty.

Other components of this project included a timeline wall at the ACP Annual Session and a Women in Prosthodontics breakfast that created a time for young women and those further in their careers to interact and network.

The Women in Prosthodontics project was made possible through the generous support of Dentsply Sirona and Straumann.

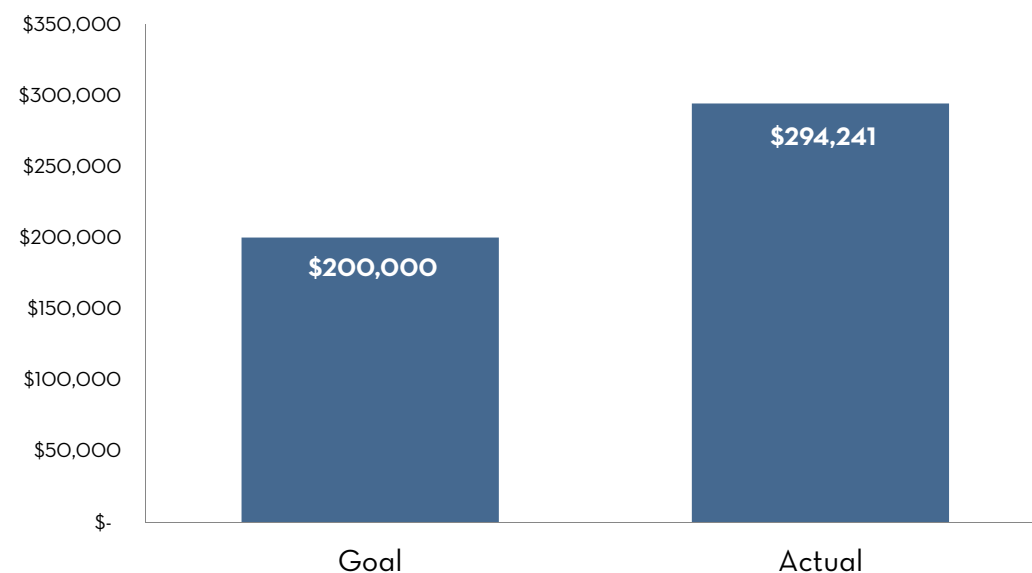

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR ADVANCEMENT OF THE SPECIALTY

ANNUAL APPEAL

Dr. Mark Hutten (pictured, top right, with Dr. Robert Stover) and Dr. Alvin Wee co-chaired the 2016 Annual Appeal. All ACPEF funds support programs in research and education, but Appeal support specifically allows the Foundation to grow its endowment and underwrite some programs not covered by active major gift commitments, and also helps offset operational expenses of the Foundation.

Through their hard work, the 2016 Annual Appeal surpassed goals for money raised ($294,241 - 147% of goal) and member participation (12% member participation - 100% of goal).

FOUNDERS SOCIETY AWARD

Dr. Leonard B. Kobren (pictured, right, with ACPEF Chair Dr. Lyndon Cooper) was recognized as the recipient of the Founders Society Award. In the spirit of its founders, the Foundation presents the Founders Society Award to honor individuals who have made a significant impact on the growth and development of the Foundation and who have demonstrated an extraordinary level of commitment to the Foundation.

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR RESEARCH

The ACP Education Foundation awarded $44,978 in research grants as follows:

ACPEF RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

Each fall, the Foundation awards research fellowship grants in the amount of $6,000. These are awarded to support meritorious research proposals that seek to advance basic scientific and applied clinical knowledge in the area of prosthodontics. Fellowships are sponsored by the Foundation and an unrestricted educational grant from Procter and Gamble Company, a supporter of the program since 2005.

Fungal and Bacterial Pathogen Biofilm Formation on Anatomical Denture Base Materials
Angela Gullard, DMD, PhD, University of Tennessee (2019)

Dimensional Stability of CAD/CAM Patterns
Leah K. Romay, DDS, University of Maryland (2019)

Evaluation of Marginal Discrepancies of Monolithic Zirconia Crowns Under the Influence of Different Preparation Designs and Sintering Techniques
Walaa Ahmed, BDS, MSc, University of British Columbia (2018)

Effects of CAD/CAM Acrylic on Human Gingival Fibroblast Differentiation, Proliferation, and Attachment
David W. Chen, DMD, BS, University of Maryland (2019)

Assessment of the Internal Fit and Marginal Integrity of Interim Crowns with Different Manufacturing Methods
Chin Chun (Jean) Peng, DDS, University of Washington (2018)

GSK PROSTHODONTIST INNOVATOR AWARD

Supported by GlaxoSmithKline Consumer Healthcare through an unrestricted educational grant, this research award is intended to advance the understanding of prosthodontics-related biological and/or materials systems, human behavior, cost and care delivery, as well as economic modeling and quality of life investigations.

Dr. Fengyuan Zheng of the Ohio State University received the award for his research titled The Effect of Angular Misfit on Implant Positional Stability Upon Splinted Multiunit Implant Supported Fixed Prosthesis, which investigates dynamics of implant-bone interface under tilting forces.

ACPEF HIGHLIGHTS: SUPPORT FOR RESEARCH

SHARRY COMPETITION

Held annually since 1976, the John J. Sharry Research Competition stimulates and acknowledges original research in prosthodontics by students. The 2016 competition was chaired by Dr. Radi Masri.

1ST PLACE:

Wear and Corrosion at the Titanium-Zirconia Implant Abutment Interface
Craig L. Sikora, DMD, FACP, University of Illinois at Chicago (2016)

2ND PLACE:

Outcomes of Implant-Fixed Complete Dental Prostheses: A Comparison of Metal-Acrylic, Milled Zirconia, and Retrievable Crown Prostheses
Virginia L. Hogsett Box, DMD, MS, FACP, University of Illinois at Chicago (2016)

3RD PLACE:

Development of an Antimicrobial Soft Denture Liner with In Situ-Generated Silver Nanoparticles for the Prevention and Treatment of Candidiasis
