

Awards of Distinction

The American College of Prosthodontists through its awards program formally recognizes individuals whose contributions to the specialty or to the College are outstanding and substantial, and satisfy the approved criteria for each specific award.

I. Purposes of Awards

The purposes of the College awards shall be to:

- Recognize the most outstanding contributions of individuals within particular categories representing the specialty or the College as a whole, or representing specific areas in or related to practice, education, research, or to the literature in prosthodontics.
- Serve as an incentive for the College's members in their achievement of outstanding and substantial contributions to the specialty or to the College.
- Provide national attention and recognition for the contributions of the recipients and serve to enhance the reputation and public awareness of the entire specialty. For individual members so recognized, the College awards represent the highest level of peer recognition.
- Enhance the esteem of the American College of Prosthodontists.

II. Eligibility Requirements for College Awards

During their respective term of service, the chair of the Nominating Committee, members of the Nominating Committee and members of the Board of Directors shall be excluded from eligibility for all awards.

Membership in the College is required for the following awards:

- Educator of the Year Award
- Dan Gordon Award
- Clinician/Researcher Award

- Major General Bill B. Lefler Federal Services Award
- Private Practice Prosthodontist Award(s)

Membership is preferred for the following awards:

- Distinguished Lecturer Award
- Distinguished Service Award
- Dental Technician Leadership Award
- President's Award

The awards of the College are given according to the approved criteria and consideration to an individual's qualifications. These awards may or may not be given annually. Only one person per year may be selected for each award. Sponsorship for awardee dinner ticket will be sought for the Annual Awards and President's Dinner.

III. Nomination Procedures

Members

Any member of the College may submit a letter of nomination for the following awards:

- Distinguished Service Award
- Dan Gordon Award
- Dental Technician Leadership Award
- Private Practice Prosthodontist Award(s)*

A brief biosketch and high-resolution color photo should accompany the letter of nomination. The nominations for these awards will be reviewed by the Nominating Committee. The Nominating Committee will make the final selection. The deadline for nominations for the ACP Awards of Distinction will be announced in the annual Call for Nominations document.

*The Private Practice Prosthodontist Award is awarded regionally. Please see the specific requirements and nomination procedure in Section V-8.

Caveat

The intention of ACP’s Private Practice Prosthodontist award is to honor a person, not a practice. Thus, future reference to this award in promotional material, PR campaigns, press releases, in traditional and social media, on the website, in ads, biosketches, and other instances must align to this intent. Misrepresentation of what this award signifies risks revocation of this award by the ACP.
