The Art and Science of the Fixed Edentulous Patient in the Digital Era

Lyndon F. Cooper, DDS, PhD, FACP

Mark E. Ludlow, DMD, MS

The ways and means of treatment planning and clinically executing the fixed edentulous patient are many and varied. This presentation will discuss strategies to streamline treatment protocols, the when, where, and how to apply the full spectrum of digital modalities with the edentulous patient, and the scientific rationale behind treatment decisions to optimize clinical outcomes.

At the conclusion of these sessions, attendees should be able to:

- Recognize fully edentulous treatment options using fixed and removable solutions.
- Recognize advantages of integrated digital technologies that enhance treatment outcomes.
- Understand treatment simplification using the latest tools, components, and technologies to expedite implant therapy for edentulous patients.
