Houston Prosthodontist Named to American College of Prosthodontists' Board of Directors

Dr. Eva Boldridge has been appointed as Regional Membership Director of the Rockies/Plains

HOUSTON – Eva Boldridge, DMD, PA, has been appointed as the Regional Membership Director of the Rockies/Plains Region for the American College of Prosthodontists (ACP), the national organization representing the dental specialty of prosthodontics.

The Rockies/Plains Region covers a large section of the western United States, spanning from Montana down to Texas and from Nebraska to Nevada. As the Regional Membership Director, Dr. Boldridge will be a vital communication link between the ACP Board of Directors and the prosthodontists in her region.

“I am honored and humbled to be appointed to this position,” said Dr. Boldridge, who lives and works in Houston. “I am hoping to bring another perspective to the table, especially regarding what we as clinicians in private practice are juggling daily including the evolving and often costly world of digital dentistry, marketing your practice through social media, and maintaining a healthy work-life balance.”

Dr. Boldridge received her Doctor of Dental Medicine degree from the Medical University of South Carolina, and then continued her education by completing a prosthodontic residency at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. Dr. Boldridge then went on to complete a fellowship in maxillofacial prosthodontics in the Dental Oncology Department at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas.

For the past 14 years, Dr. Boldridge has maintained a private practice in Houston, and has served as an assistant clinical faculty member at the UTHealth School of Dentistry.
